Southeast BH basketball round-up

By CARROLL DENMARK

The Yellow Jackets of Southeast Bulloch easily won their seventh game of the season by defeating Metter by a score of 55 to 37. This game was played on Monday, January 16, in order not to conflict with mid-term exams scheduled for later in the week.

On Friday night of this week the Yellow Jackets traveled down to Greenville to take on the tough, but once called Bulldogs. Greenville, enabling to score 35 points to Southeast Bulloch's 27, came out on top by a score of 53 to 41. This game was the second meeting between the two clubs. In the first game the Yellow Jackets took a thrilling and heart stinging victory in overtime by a score of 51 to 50.

Southeast Bulloch's next home game will be on Friday night of this week against a tough, but can be handled Hinesville club. This game is expected to be filled with all the fireworks that the first game encountered. We urge everyone to go see these two fine ball teams in action when they meet face to face in the SEBH gymnasium.

The scores for the two games mentioned above are as follows: Wayne Shuman leading the list with 37 total points followed by Jerry Lanier with 18, Carroll Denmark with 16, Buddy Anderson with 4, and Calvin Shuman with 3.

Grower experience shows that the small additional investment of treating cotton seed will pay dividends of many dollars, says Extension Agronomist W. H. Sell.

Rites held for Edwin Grumme of Lakeland, Fla.

Edwin Grumme, Jr., died Tuesday, January 17, in Lakeland, Fla. He was the brother-in-law of Mrs. J. L. Brannen, Mrs. J. H. Watson, R. L. Lanier, J. H. Lanier and Mrs. Hugh Hayer, of the Statesboro area. He was retired executive of the National Cash Register Company.

He is survived by his wife of Lakeland, Fla. Funeral services were held Wednesday, Jan. 18, in Lakeland. Graveside services were held Thursday, January 19, in the East Side Cemetery, Statesboro.

Prillbearers were Robert and Durden Lanier, Pat Brannen, Devane Watson, Buford Knight and Tommie Dekle.

Adult classes begin at SHS on January 31

The Adult Education class in typing and shorthand will begin at the Statesboro High School Tuesday evening, January 31 at 7:30 o'clock. Students will register and pay in the room on the first floor and immediately proceed to the classroom on the second floor to begin work. All who are interested in enrolling in this class are urged to enroll the first night so that the class can remain together throughout the first month of work.

A class in bookkeeping will begin as soon as a class of fifteen students can be registered. There are possibilities for a math class beginning with general math and proceeding to advanced math, leading to drafting and blue print reading. Those interested are invited to contact Miss Maude White, director adult education, at P.O. 4-2223, after 3 p.m. or Temple 9-3406 at night.

Federal Savings and Loan Association's 1960 operation as follows:

1. Net savings increased by $255,000.00, or nine per cent, boosting total savings capital to $6,750,000.00 at year's end.
2. Savers increased by 262, or nine per cent, and total savings account holders now stand at 2491.
3. Dividend payments to savers totaled $251,000.00, eight per cent above the 1959 figure, and an all-time high.
4. The dollar value of the home mortgage loan portfolio increased to $5,400,000.00 at year's end.

Looking ahead, Mr. Smith suggested that the recent slowdown in business probably contains in itself the "seeds of its own recovery." He listed as "plus factors" a continued high level of sales and production, employment, and personal income.

Indicating that housing may be one of the bright spots in the economy, he forecast the building of between 1.2 and 1.3 million new homes in 1961.

After adjourning of the meeting of the members, refreshments were served in the employees coffee lounge.

The annual organizational meeting of the Board of Directors was held after the meeting of the members, the following officers being elected:

Horace Z. Smith, president; L. E. Tyson, vice president; James B. Averitt, executive vice president; David H. Averitt, treasurer; Mrs. Jessie O. Averitt, secretary; Mrs. Frances C. Deal, asst. secretary-treasurer; Geo. M. Johnston, general counsel.

G. C. Dekle Jr. was appointed as associate attorney for Jenkins County.

Mrs. Frank Smith to be president of Ga. SFSA

Mrs. Frank Smith, manager of the Marvin Pittman High School lunch room, will be installed as president of the Georgia School Food Service Association at a luncheon in Atlanta on Saturday, February 4, during the regular spring conference of the Georgia School Food Service Association.

Nearly 500 Georgians will be in Atlanta tomorrow, and Saturday, February 3 and 4, for the conference when they will talk on "Good Measure."

Martin Garber, director of the food distribution system of the Department of Agriculture of Washington, D. C., will be the opening session tomorrow afternoon. Georgia gets about eight million dollars' worth of free foods for its 1,775 school lunchrooms from the service under Mr. Garber's supervision. Friday evening Mrs. Thelma Flanagan, state supervisor of the Florida school lunch program, will speak at the banquet meeting.

Miss Margaret McCarthy of Jackson, Miss., regional director of America School Food Service Association, will install the new officers including Mrs. Smith as president at a luncheon Saturday.

Mrs. Smith is chairman of the conference program.

C. L. Sammons dies; was 93 years of age

Charles L. Sammons, 93, died Monday morning, January 30, in his home in Statesboro after a long illness.

Sammons was a retired farmer and had lived in Bulloch County most of his life. He and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Akers Sammons, Statesboro, recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Survivors are his wife; three sons, Brooks Sammons, Linton L. Sammons, both of Statesboro, and Walter Sammons, Port Wentworth; three daughters, Mrs. Walter Donalson, Register, Mrs. Perry Edmonds, Savannah, Mrs. Bernice Lowe, Alexandria, Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Georgia Brannen, Savannah, Mrs. Dalton Woods, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; 15 grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning, February 1, in Lower Lotts Creek Primitive Baptist Church by the Elders Ivy Spivey, Harris Cribbs and Rolfe Rineer. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Smith-Tillman Mortuary was in charge of the arrangements.

Survivors with Mrs. Franklin will be Mrs. Walter Odum, Mrs. D. P. Waters and Mrs. Robert Bland.

Chamber of Commerce sets policy on city solicitations

Mr. Al Gibson, executive secretary of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that the Chamber of Commerce has set up a "solicitations policy" designed to screen the many requests for permission to solicit for funds or promotions in Statesboro.

Mr. Gibson, in making the announcement of the policy, said, "Solicitation of funds, for worthy causes, is often necessary. It is a part of the American way of life. However, there are many instances where the cause being represented does not merit your support. We, as citizens of Bulloch county, have enough problems of our own without supporting those that rightly belong to other areas of the nation."

Mr. Gibson stated that all those who would like to solicit the citizens of this community for whatever cause, must apply at the Chamber of Commerce office for an "identification card." If the cause is a worthy one and deserves the support of the citizens of this community, then all solicitation will be cleared through the Chamber of Commerce and unworthy or fraudulent solicitations can be eliminated, saving the community money, time and worry.

Mr. Gibson wishes it plainly understood that the "identification card" issued by the Chamber of Commerce in no way indicates an endorsement of the solicitation or project, nor does it obligate any citizen to make any contribution or to purchase any item. It merely indicates that the Chamber of Commerce has investigated and checked the project or group and has found the project or solicitation to be legitimate.

County leaders meet to study problems, how to meet them

More than sixty people of Statesboro and Bulloch County, including business, industrial, civic, religious and women leaders, gathered at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen on Monday evening of this week to study problems which beset this community and to seek ways and means of meeting them.

The meeting was sponsored by the Extension Service of the College of Agriculture of the University of Georgia. W. H. Smith, Jr., president of the Bulloch County Bank, the Sea Island Bank, the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Brookline, the Farm Bureau and the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce were hosts at the meeting.

"If we can pin point our problems, then we can work at finding answers," Mr. Smith told the group. He reminded those at the meeting that Bulloch county farmers are decreasing, that the size of farm in the county is increasing, and that farming in Bulloch County is a $17,900,000 business.

An overall position of the farmer was presented by County Agent Roy Powell based on figures prepared by R. A. Williams. He pointed out that the capital invested per worker in farming is $21,000 against about $12,000 for all other industries. Farm machinery investment is more than ten times since 1940. Farmers buy more petroleum products than any other industry; they purchase 6½ million tons of finished steel a year, and enough rubber to place tires on all new cars and fifty million tons of chemicals.

Mr. Powell pointed out that prices received by farmers in 1959 were four per cent less than those received in 1949. Prices paid by farmers in 1959 were nineteen per cent higher than they were in 1949.

'Miss Rainbow' to be crowned at Center tonight

One of sixteen Statesboro girls will be crowned "Miss Rainbow" at a March of Dimes dance, Thursday night, February 2, at the Statesboro Recreation Center, according to Miss Maude White, chairman of the activity, Jr. Tri-Hi-Y.

The Magnolia Garden Club, Mrs. W. H. Woodcock, president, is sponsoring the dance.

The contestants, members of the Jr. Tri-Hi-Y, are soliciting funds for the March of Dimes in the up-town business area. Contestants are: Ann Beaver, Sharon Stubbs, Jane Hollar, Sandra Hagan, Patricia Thigpen, Johnnie Faye Allen, Claudis Harman, Janet Kraft, Linda Anderson, Helen Smith, Brenda Scruggs, Toy Yone Mikell, Janina Clements, Marsha Hunter, Angela Rushing, Tonya Hunter and Sue Stephens.

The dance is open to all young people in the high school and college. Admission will be 50¢ per person and all money will go to the March of Dimes.

Statesboro Girl Scouts now selling cookies

Announcement is made today by the Statesboro Girl Scouts leaders that the Girl Scouts began their annual Cookie Sale yesterday, February 1, and will continue through Saturday, February 11. Nearly 100 members of the organization will be inviting people of the city to buy their cookies to help finance their local projects.

House to house sales will be made on February 3 and 4 and on February 10 and 11. Sales tables are set up at the Piggy-Wiggly supermarket, the Bulloch County Bank and the Simmons Shopping Center for the sales campaign.

Girl Scout leaders are Mrs. John W. Davis, Mrs. Bernice Goy, Mrs. Belton Braswell, Mrs. Henry Banks and Mrs. Hal Averitt. Mrs. Oscar Joiner is chairman of the cookie sales.

Edgar Wynn tells about road system

Edgar Wynn, chairman of the Bulloch County Commission of Roads and Revenues, gave members of the Statesboro Rotary Club Monday a report on the county's operations and explaining the road system in the county.

Mr. Wynn said that the county has 91 miles of county roads and 8.8 miles of streets under the state post roads program; 18.1 miles under the state rural roads program; 10.2 miles under the federal secondary highway program and 13.6 miles under the federal primary highway program. He pointed out that the post roads are financed 100 percent by the state, that the rural roads were financed 100 percent by the state, that the secondary highways program pays half of the construction cost with the county securing the rights of way and that the federal primary system helps with the rights of way and construction on the primary roads.

He said that in 1960 the county revenue totaled $350,166 for 1960 with $222,274, coming from county taxes and $127,892 from the state. The 1960 county tax digest totals approximately $14,900,000 with a net digest of $6,000,000.

He informed the Rotarians that the county's tax equalization program is progressing and, when completed will be a fair and equitable method of taxation to finance the county operations.

Area conference at Ga. Southern on February 4

Dr. J. Marshall Hanna, a national authority in the field of business education, will address South Georgia business education teachers at an area conference scheduled for Saturday, February 4 at Georgia Southern College.

The public is cordially invited to attend this study course.

He is a past district governor of Rotary International and holds an honorary membership in Kiwanis International.

In 1955, Mr. Donaldson was named "Man of the Year in Service to Georgia Agriculture." In 1956 he received the Georgia Association of Soil Conservation Award and the "Delbert Clark Award" in recognition of interest and leadership in the field of adult education. He holds honorary life memberships in the 4-H Club, Future Farmers of America, and Future Homemakers of America. In 1958 he received the "Golden Deed Award" from the Exchange Club and in 1959 he was made an honorary life member of the National PTA.

He is a former member of the Georgia General Assembly. He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Law degree (LL.D.) by Mercer University, Macon, on August 20, 1960.

He married the former Miss Holly Twitty of Pelham. They have two sons, George P. and William Twitty.

On Friday night two Midget Basketball teams from the Blitch Street Center played a preliminary game at the William James High School Gym.

The Warriors won out over the Globe Trotters by a score of 39 to 29. High man for the winners was Elliott Boney and Nick Thomas was high man for the Globe Trotters.

Referees were Wilbur Campbell and Melvin Douglas who are older Recreation Department basketball players.

One-quarter million dollars down the drain

One-quarter of a million dollars down the drain!

That is exactly what it amounts to.

Bulloch County is losing one-quarter a million dollars annually just because somebody goofed, or because somebody is careless.

And it's one-quarter of a million dollars that need not be lost to the economy of this county.

This amazing fact was revealed at a meeting of farmers, businessmen, industrialists, church leaders, and women leaders, held Monday night when the community's problems were studied and ways sought to solve them.

This tremendous loss occurs when farmers with cotton allotments fail either to plant or release to their county ASC committee the acres allotted to them. Not only does the county lose but the individual farmer loses when he fails to release unplanted allotted acres.

Cotton acreage history determines future allotments. When a farmer releases acreage he will not plant, that acreage can be given to others who will plant this year, and the history of the farm which originally had the allotment is protected. A farmer must plant at least seventy-five per cent of his allotted acres to protect the entire allotment. If acreage is not either planted or released, the farm's allotment will be reduced next year, under present regulations. This allotment will not be given to someone else in the county or even in the state; it will be distributed over the entire cotton producing section of the county.

If you are a farmer with a cotton allotment and you cannot, or do not plan to plant it all, report this to your ASC committee and release that part of the allotment so you can protect your future allotments and so that someone else might plant it to protect the county's allotment position.

You'll be helping yourself and your neighbor and your county.

When trouble comes, it comes in bunches

When trouble comes it comes in bunches.

The New Year was only an infant when the schools or our great state were locked in a struggle for their future existence over the problem of integration. And the people of Georgia looked to their representatives in the Georgia General Assembly to fight their battle. And out of it comes what looks like a victory of sorts.

With the smoke of this battle still settling the teachers of Georgia ask the legislature for a substantial salary increase and another battle is joined.

Differences came up between Governor Vandiver and Lieutenant-Governor Garland Byrd over the pay raise issue. Gov. Vandiver says there is no increase without a tax increase. Lt. Gov. Byrd disagreed. And the president of the Georgia Education Association suggests that Georgia school teachers may consider or-

It'll save you money

We commend the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce for its program to protect the citizens of our community from fraudulent and nuisance solicitations by persons for funds for doubtful or downright non-existent projects or "causes."

But to make the program successful citizens must cooperate with the Chamber and report to its office on North Main Street any solicitor who works without an identification furnished by the Chamber of Commerce. It's that simple.

Organizations who promote worthy projects designed for the good of our community will find that the Chamber of Commerce will cheerfully provide them and their solicitors with proper credentials to enable them to ask the community to support their projects.

Give your Chamber of Commerce your support to protect our citizens from those who would cheat our community under the guise of some doubtful cause.

It was a fine meeting

It was a fine thing.

Farmers, businessmen, industrialists, churchleaders, and women leaders, gathered together here Monday night to study the problems which beset our community and to determine how these problems might be attacked and solved.

It not only was an enlightening meeting, revealing many things about our county, but it helps to establish a continuing good relation among the people of our community.

C'MON OUT MR. GROUNDHOG

This Week's Meditation

MUCH OF THE unhappiness which plagues us is our failure to grow up. While the characteristics of childhood are attractive in children, they become sand in the machinery of mature living.

It is easy to grow up! All one has to do is to be sure and stay around, get enough birthdays under his belt, and he will develop physically from a child into an adult. The problem is—many who grow up physically fail to mature emotionally.

Dr. Harry Overstreet, one of our better students of human nature, has written a book entitled, "The Mature Mind." In it he states: "The business of man is to mature." He lists in one of the chapters these tests for growing up.

THE FIRST is being self-centered. Says Dr. Overstreet: "The human being is born self-centered. One of the most important phases of maturing is that of growth from self-centeredness to an understanding of relationship with others." A person is not mature until he has both an ability and a willingness to see himself as one among others.

A second mark of maturity is a sense of responsibility. Again, Dr. Overstreet writes: "The human being is born irresponsible." It is true that he did not ask to be born and for a long time he is helpless to do anything about it. Yet, if a man excuses himself from responsible participation in life by saying, "I didn't ask to be born," we can be sure that he is immature.

OUR WORLD is full of persons who illustrate this lack of maturity. They are the persons who illustrate this lack of maturity. They are the persons who illustrate this lack of maturity. They are the persons who illustrate this lack of maturity.

AA helps those who come seeking help

By DR. JOHN MOONEY

The various classifications of alcoholics described last week are entirely the work of researchers and other observers. They depict the alcoholic as seen by interested outsiders who usually do not consider them as people. They are, instead, devoted workers who are trying to help the alcoholic. Being motivated by a desire to understand the alcoholic, their opinions are of great value.

However, those researchers who have themselves experienced alcoholism seem to be able to probe deeper into the mind of the alcoholic, for they possess additional information gained through bitter conflict with alcohol; evidence from stories of knowledge closed to the non-alcoholic investigator.

I KNOW ONE such individual, a professional man, who is a recovered alcoholic. Since he stopped drinking, he has spent a good part of his time studying alcoholism and the people affected by it.

He says the uninhibited behavior of the alcoholic reflects the way he is feeling. Since the alcoholic seems to feel differently during the various periods between the start of his drinking and the end and since he generally behaves like he feels, an accurate idea of the relative stages of the disease, might be gained by studying the subtle emotional changes as described by the victim himself.

Drawing on his own history, this man divides his thirty year drinking history into three stages based on dominant emotional reactions.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is another of the "Why I Like to Live in Statesboro," written by members of the Senior Citizens at the Recreation Center.

I have always been my life ambition to live in Statesboro, and fourteen years ago this ambition was fulfilled. Living here has presented me with the greatest pleasures of my life.

Here, I have enjoyed home life through my family and friends. Friends can be very meaningful in determining happiness in a community. My children graduated from Statesboro High School, and then attended our much loved college, Georgia Southern.

The radio station and newspapers have provided me with news and fashions of the past, present, and future. WYNS gives us the news of the world, weather reports, spiritual programs, music, country and popular style for enjoyment listening. The papers and other happenings in Statesboro, it gives us the society news, wants, and values that are being held at stores in the community. The Bulloch Herald and Bulloch Times have received many awards for their outstanding publications. The papers mean much to the community because of their outstanding service.

STATSBORO ALSO has many motels and restaurants for visitors, as well as home folks. These restaurants also serve the businessmen in numerous ways. Statesboro has many beautiful scenic spots such as the Country Club, Georgia Southern, motels, and Cypress Lake. These places offer forms of recreation such as golfing, swimming, and fishing.

The many industries located here, have brought many families, because, it provides employment for men and women. These industries have also brought prosperity and growth to our community.

NOT LIKE THE old days, as we remember them. Teachers in Nashville, Tenn., may paddle students provided they have in advance, written permission from the parents and the school principal. When we were in school and the teacher thought we needed a paddling, except it wasn't a paddling we got, it was a whipping, and then we were sent to the principal's office and if he were of a mind, he gave us another whipping—and that's right, we got another whipping when we got home, and word went to the teacher that if we needed another one let us have it!

IT WAS THIS month back in 1861 that S. L. Moore and Samuel Harville, delegates to the Georgia Secession Convention, were in Nashville, Tenn., voted to secede from the Union.

To Beat the Band

By DALE JENSEN

This is the second in a series of articles based on information found in a booklet published by the National Education Association, entitled "Will You Child Get A Quality Education?"

Why are quality teachers so important to your child's future?

Quality teachers may mean the difference between the ninth, tenth or eleventh grade.

A good kindergarten teacher helps mold your child's attitudes toward school and other children. A good first-grade teacher gives your child a running start in school.

Good elementary teachers form the basis for student success in high school. Good high school teachers prepare for student success in college or a vocation.

Good teachers not only teach subject matter, but help develop sound attitudes and values. Can the chances of your child's getting a quality teacher be improved?

Yes! By holding on to the quality teachers now in the classroom.

Yes! By attracting back to teaching many competent persons who have left the profession.

Yes! By making teaching more rewarding and respected. Dramatically higher salaries are the real key to getting and keeping quality teachers.

What price teachers do you want for your son or daughter? At $2500, you will probably get persons who have not finished college or who have little training for any kind of work. Semi-skilled labor is paid more.

At $5000, a mixture of those with and those without a talent for teaching, of those who have graduated from college and those who have not. Many of the best will quit teaching after a few years.

At $7500, assurance of fairly strong college graduates and a good chance of able persons with Master's degrees. Emergency teachers could probably be eliminated at this level. At this salary, teaching begins to compete for real talent.

At $10,000, virtual certainty of quality teachers, the majority with two or three degrees. At this level, teaching competes for the best talent available.

When persons with talent know their services will be rewarded and honored in teaching, as in other professions, they will be available to teach your child.

At $10,000, virtual certainty of quality teachers, the majority with two or three degrees. At this level, teaching competes for the best talent available.

Miss Durden talks to Merry Weeders Garden Club

On Tuesday morning Jan. 24, the Merry Weeders Garden Club met at the lovely home of Mrs. B. P. Lamb on Jeff Road with Mrs. William Smith and Mrs. Din Lester, co-hostesses.

The coffee table featured an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums and yellow poms with sheafs of dried wheat on a tripod base. Mrs. Sam Franklin brought a lovely arrangement combining three white water lilies, drift wood and a pink flamingo accessory encased in an oblong container beaded with ivory.

A variety of dainty sandwiches, tiny ham biscuits, lemon tarts topped with whipped cream were served with coffee. Mrs. Ronald Neil presided at the business session. Mrs. With these she swiftly coordinated at least ten or twelve color schemes for different rooms.

Miss Durden was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. L. M. Durden.

Members present were Mrs. Leodel Coleman, Mrs. Sam Franklin, Mrs. Hoke Brunson, Mrs. Lannie Simmons, Mrs. Walter Aldred, Mrs. Fred Blich, Mrs. Talmadge Ramsey, Mrs. Ronald Neil, Mrs. F. L. Sheer, Mrs. Jack Whelchel, Mrs. E. C. Oliver, Mrs. R. J. Kennedy Jr., Mrs. Bird Daniel, Mrs. Robert Donaldson, Miss Leona Newton and Mrs. Bunny Cone.

Double Four Bridge Club entertained at Mrs. Hollar's

Mrs. Charles Hollar entertained the Double Four bridge club Thursday night at her home on Donaldson Street. Chrysanthemums and fruit were combined in the decorations.

A dessert course was served. Aprons were awarded as prizes at bridge. Mrs. Tom (Betty) Smith won high and Mrs. Cohen Anderson was second high.

Their agents were Frances Grace Gray won a novelty apron for cut.

Other players were Mrs. A. S. Baldwin, Mrs. Bunny Cone, Mrs. George Byrd, Mrs. Clyde Yarber and Mrs. Julie Allen.

NANCY BROWN

Marriage of Miss Nancy Brown Hamilton announced

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lamar Hamilton have announced the marriage of their daughter, Nancy Brown, to David Lawrence Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds Hill Jr., on January 22, at 2:30 p.m.

The Rev. John L. Brown from Lumpkin, the bride's great uncle performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents at 6553 Varn Drive, Savannah, Ga.

He was assisted by the Rev. J. E. Coussar Jr., pastor of the Independent Presbyterian Church of Savannah. Decorations of white carnations, chrysanthemums and snap dragons were used throughout the house.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pale blue sheer wool dressmaker suit with a white collar. With this she wore a matching blue bandeau and carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Ice turns Stilson into wonderland

By MRS. W. H. MORRIS

The freeze weather of last week makes us realize how much we don't need that kind of weather. On the huge oak tree in front of our house, the tips of the limbs are about 5 feet above the ground normally, but while under the burden of the ice the limbs bent down and were touching the ground.

While there was only one small limb to break off, the tree was under a tremendous strain to hold up the weight of the ice that had covered it.

The ice covering the trees and the icicles hanging from the eaves of every house was a beautiful sight to behold.

It reminded us of "The Winter Wonderland," until the pine trees limbs began to break off.

It was a beautiful sight not many of us had ever seen here. But after seeing the limbs break from the freeze, then the beauty which we behold turned to content of what the freeze would do to disfigure the trees which are beautiful in their own right.

So when the ice began to melt it was a relief. Our tree limbs are back to their proper place and all is well.

Relative and friends here were saddened this weekend by the death of two of our citizens.
